

healthcarewebsummit

HealthcareWebSummit Faculty Provisions

Thank you for participating as a Faculty speaker in a HealthcareWebSummit webinar event from MCOL. Here are provisions that apply to your participation:

- You will prepare slides using Microsoft PowerPoint as a part of your presentation, and you and or your organization will retain full copyright of your presentation.
- You will provide mutually agreed upon information to assist MCOL in preparation of promotional material regarding the event, which will be available for your advance review before public release.
- MCOL will provide you detailed logistical information regarding the event, including the date your presentation slides will be required to process them for the event, and the login times and access information required for you to participate in the event.
- MCOL will provide up to ten complimentary passes to the event, or as otherwise agreed upon, when requested by you for your designated colleagues, clients or other interested parties.
- MCOL will provide you a spreadsheet with attendee listing after the event concludes.
- MCOL will provide you a complimentary MCOL premium membership for minimum of one year.
- MCOL may elect to report on selected elements of your presentation in an MCOL newsletter or blog.
- By participating in this event, you and your organization consent to MCOL:
 - Promoting the event including listing of your faculty participation
 - Distributing a pdf version of your slide presentation to event attendees
 - MCOL audio and video recording of the event
 - MCOL retaining unrestricted rights to make recordings of the event available on-demand to HealthcareWebSummit customers and subscribers of MCOL's iHealthFlix service on an ongoing basis.

HealthcareWebSummit from MCOL

Adam Goldstein

CEO, MCOL

adamg@mcoll.com

209.577.4888